Koldinghus

In the centre of Kolding lies Jutland's last royal castle, Koldinghus. Enter this fascinating castle renovated respecting the history underlying the Koldinghus we know today. Here, Danish kings stayed when they visited Jutland, and King Christian. 4 had his first day of school in one of the castle halls. Koldinghus contains history and myths dating back to the mid-1200s. Today, Koldinghus serves as a modern museum that conveys culture and history for both children and adults. Here are activities for children that include both playing and learning. Koldinghus contains collections that include interiors from the 1500s and up to the present time, Romanesque and Gothic church culture, older Danish arts and crafts with an emphasis on ceramics and silver. The newly restored wings are a world-class attraction that has been awarded the EUROPA NOSTRA prize.

The Jelling Monuments

Jelling is home to Europe's finest Viking-Age monuments: Denmark's two largest grave mounds and two runic stones erected by the kings Gorm the Old and Harald Bluetooth in the eighth century. In 1994, the royal monuments and Jelling Church came under the patronage of the UNESCO World Heritage List. The 10-meter northern mound, presumed to have been built by King Harald Bluetooth, contained a wooden burial chamber in which the king's father, Gorm the Old, had been entombed. The 70-meter southern mound is not actually believed to have been a burial site. The church sits between the two mounds and has an underground burial chamber. The smaller of the two large rune stones in front of the church was erected around 940-50 AD by Gorm the Old in honour of his queen, Thyra. The runic inscription reads: "Gorm the Old made this monument in honour of his wife, Thyra, the flower of Denmark". This is the oldest known reference to the name of the nation. The inscription on the larger of the two rune stones, erected by Harald Bluetooth, reads: "King Harald made this monument in honour of Gorm, his father, and Thyra, his mother. Harald who won Denmark - in entirety - and Norway and who brought Christianity to the Danes." The two rune stones, together with the church and the two grave mounds, are evidence of the transition from paganism to Christianity in Denmark and the change from Norse burial traditions to those of Christian religious practice. The Royal Jelling visitor's centre relates the inspiring story of the royal monuments, their origin and significance.

Karensminde Agricultural Museum

A visit at Karensminde Agricultural Museum feels like stepping into another age. Here work is done as in the heydays of the farm back in the 18th and 19th centuries. The whole family can lend a helping hand when it is time to harvest, dig up potatoes or help milk the cow. In the meantime food is being prepared on the old woodstove.

At Karensminde you can get very close to the animals. Help shear the sheep or collect the eggs in the chicken run. Have a look around the stables. On the green meadow you can say hello to the goat and geese. The rabbits are lying comfortably in their cages, while the cat sneaks a nap in a hay stack.

When the big horses are harnessed to the wagon you can have a drive around the countryside in the old horse-drawn carriage. All year there are activities for the whole family on Karensminde. Enjoy making wooden toys in the wood workshop, make patterns on fabric with carved potatoes, paint eggs or lend a helping hand in the kitchen when soup or marmalade is made.

You are welcome to bring a picnic basket and have lunch in the beautiful surroundings or buy a cup of coffee and a piece of cake in the small shop.

GIVSKUD ZOO

LEGOLAND Billund Resort

AT GIVSKUD ZOO YOU GET VERY CLOSE TO THE ANIMALS

Take the family on safari in your own car or on the GIVSKUD ZOO Safari Bus. Get closer to the animals! You drive across the African savannah, where zebra and giraffes have right of way.

Continue into the Lion's Den. Feel the thrill as the big cats lumber past your car. Do you dare?

The pride of lions in GIVSKUD ZOO is Denmark's biggest, so you are always sure to see lots of big cats.

Don't forget to visit our tropical house with our newest species of carnivores, the South American giant otters. See them swimming in their pool and watch them being fed. Throughout most of the season, the elephants, gorillas and other species are fed daily. Children are welcome to help the zoo guide feed the camels.

Safari by Bus

Get an even better zoo experience: Hop onto the Safari Bus! The driver tells lots of amazing stories about the animals during the tour. If you want to see more, you are welcome to cover the same route again in your own car.

Don't forget to buy your bus ticket at the entrance before hopping onto the bus.

NATURE & WATER

SAND BETWEEN YOUR TOES, FOREST TRANQUILLITY AND A WEALTH OF EXPERIENCES

Here in the centre of Denmark you find some of the most scenic areas the country has to offer. The east coast features beach forests reflected in the blue waves - as praised in our national anthem. The beautiful river valleys are enticing - whether you want to relax on a canoe trip or bicycle around some of the cycle routes with challenging hills, in stark contrast to Denmark's reputation as a flat country.

Jels Søbad

Jels Søbad, the bathing area at the lake in Jels, is situated on the edge of Jels Nedersø where you may find Denmark's most beautiful surroundings for a swim. When the water temperature is acceptable, it is possible to swim in freshwater with a view to a Danish beech forest and a charming town along the edge of the lake. The bathing jetty allows for all types of water play - for those who dare to jump into deep water and for small children who just want to paddle and play in the sand pit. The facilities at Jels Søbad are free of charge.

The new buildings also include modern changing rooms for the visitors and a newly constructed bathing jetty creating a children's area, an area for calm swimming and an area for divers. The old buildings were in a state of disrepair after approximately 70 years and, therefore, replaced by new buildings creating a place for activities and gathering in the open. The project was implemented in a co-operation between Jels Lokalråd, a local board on voluntary basis, and Vejen Kommune, the municipality, and opened in June 2014.

Life guard and safety

During the summer holidays of the Danish schools, from 28 June to 10 August 2015, a life guard is present at Jels Søbad every day from 10.00 to 18.00 hours. Life buoys are also found in the area.

The water quality is controlled regularly - the water of the lake complies with current rules and limit values.

Kvie Sø

Kvie Lake is situated just north of Ansager in beautiful surroundings. Kvie Lake functions in summer as the area's swimming beach. The lake has a sandy bottom and good quality water, and is shallow, which makes it especially suitable for swimming. Close to Kvie lake you will find this nice and cosy family restaurant, Restaurant Kvie Sø/The Pancakehouse, where the speciality is homemade pancakes of all kinds.

Bike hire, Hovborg

Experience the beautiful and peculiar nature around Hovborg on a bike tour for the entire family. There are no hills, plenty of shelter, not that much traffic and exciting things to look at on the way. Take a ride to the country seat at Baldersbæk, follow one of the two bicycle routes or find your own way in the area. Make a pause when the view or a bench invite for it or when your legs are tired.

How it works

Please order your bikes at 22.00 hours on the previous day at the latest at www.hovborgcykler.dk. Between 9.00 and 10.00 hours bikes and helmets are handed over and these are to be left at the container again before 20.00 hours on the same day. You are to pay cash or by Dankort when the bikes are handed over, or by Mastercard at the place you stay, i.e. Hovborg Kro or the camping site.

24 bikes for children and adults, 1 bike trailer, 1 add-a-bike trailer and a Christiania-bike are available.

A big map on the container shows two bicycle routes.

Whale Watching

On a whale safari in The Little Belt, you and your family will meet the porpoise, one of the world's smallest whales. Aboard the ship, the view is divided into sections like a clock face, so it is important to be alert - and be the first one to see a porpoise's dorsal fin when it pops out of the water. That's when you shout: "Porpoise at 12 o'clock!" This means that everyone aboard is responsible for keeping a lookout - who will spot the most porpoises? And in addition to seeing the porpoises, you will also be able to listen to them, if conditions allow. When a suitable number of porpoises have been identified, those aboard are invited to listen closely. You'll hear the clicking sound the porpoises make when they 'talk' to one another underwater. In the pilothouse, you get to be the helmsman and help the skipper sail the big ship and bring the passengers safely through the waves. The skipper will show you how to steer the ship based on his commands. After the journey, you will be rewarded for your efforts with a nice diploma.

Whale watching trips are available from Middelfart on both the AVENTURA and Mira3. AVENTURA is an old eel fishing boat and Mira3 has been used for boat trips since 1915.

The Hindsgavl Peninsula

Experience one of the most beautiful coastal areas in Denmark with a unique recreational area. Hindsgavl Peninsula is the home of Nature Park visitors center.

Hindsgavl Deer Park, and Nature- and Activity Centre Hindsgavl as well as the Bridgewalking

A good walk is "around the peninsula" - along the coast from Old Harbour to Teglgård and across the peninsula. The tour is about 10 km long and takes about 4 hours. Dogs must be kept on a leash.

The Deer Park has large herds of red and fallow deer. On a walk around the park you will easily spot the deer grazing in the woods and meadows. The deer naturally shape and maintain the area, ensuring that the paddocks remain light and open.

There is also a natural playground, a Tarzan adventure track and campfire cooking facilities at the Nature- and Activity Centre. In other words, there is room for fun, games and relaxing. The Nature- and Activity Centre Hindsgavl is also a good spot for a picnic with access to toilet facilities during the centres opening hours.

There are tables and benches available for use in the centre's picnic room.

Hjerting Beach - the sea front

In Ho bay somewhere along the wonderful wadden sea coastline from Esbjerg Harbour to the mouth of the Varde Å river a 660-metre-long wooden promenade stretches from Hjerting Badehotel in the south to the new yachting clubhouse to the north. Stairs, ramps, a tribune and a panorama platform are all an integral part of a highly attractive and child friendly shore environment that has plenty to offer all year round.

Nowhere else has anyone seen before how mere clusters of untreated poles in sand and water create both sculptural assets, function as climbing frames and can be used to measure the ebb and flow of the tide.

Benches and hammocks are there for musing and dreaming – or for action in the form of beachvolley and a fresh dip in either the blue waves or a sea-water pool that is supplied with fresh sea-water from the bay.

Albuen Beach

On the north side of the bay is Vejle's popular local beach, Albuen, nestled in beautiful natural surroundings. The appealing, family-friendly city beach with excellent facilities for the disabled, features a superb range of beach amenities including a sandy bathing beach, children's beach, playground, beach volleyball courts, snack bar, picnic tables and benches, toilet facilities and car park. Construction of the man-made beach began in 1942. Albuen's distinctive white sand was sourced from the nearby cape of Trelde Næs and after six years of landscaping the new beach was ready to welcome visitors. The popular beach has undergone a number of maintenance programs over the years, the latest completed in 2005. The Danish National Cycle Network R5, the East Coast Trail (Østkystruten), runs through the area. Albuen can be reached by public transport. Take municipal bus route 1 from Vejle city centre directly to Albuen.

On bike around Billund

The Billund region is blessed with great cycle routes. With a diverse landscape, which can change from sweeping farmland to dense forest in the blink of an eye, the cyclist is spoiled for choice when taking a two-wheeled tour. VisitBillund have put together seven of the finest regional rides, all of varying length and different types of cyclists. The routes to the popular nature area Grene Sande and around the town of Grindsted are perfect for families, with flat terrain and some great spots to stop and eat. In comparison, our 'Tour De Dale' and 'Country and Castle' trips go further into the country and will suit road bike riders who like a bit longer in the saddle. Just outside of Billund, you'll also find 3.5 km mountain bike route, suited for both adults and children. Whichever route you choose, we're sure that you will find discovering the Billund region by bike a highlight of your trip to Denmark.

Canoe at Kolding

Visit Kolding rents out canoes in July and August. Start your voyage in the center of Kolding and enjoy the beautiful nature around Kolding and Kolding River Valley. Kolding River Valley can be followed all the way from the center of Kolding past the highway bridge at Harte out the more impassable nature areas. Kolding River is just one of the many fishing spots found in the Kolding area. With a location right on the Little Belt and the many Put and Take lakes, Kolding is an area that has everything an angler's heart desires.

The Danish North Sea Nature Park

The Danish North Sea Nature Park is located between Nymindesø and Blåvandshuk, this is where The Wadden Sea National Park begins.

Wonderful sandy beaches, among others Blåvand, Henne, Nymindesø and Vejers, which are some of the best beaches in Northern Europe and offer all kinds of beach activities. No matter the time of year it is also a relaxing and comfortable place to be, and experiences are true and meaningful. Behind the dunes you will find plantations, heathland, meadows, lakes and fields. Filsø, the sixth largest lake in Denmark lies in The Danish North Sea Nature Park. There are good biking and hiking possibilities and bird towers around Filsø.

Vejle Ådal

Egtved lies in an area of outstanding natural beauty, in the rolling downs of Vejle Ådal. Located in the deepest of the valleys of the area, Egtved offers pristine natural settings as well as cultural experiences. Among the mosaic of cultural institutions in Egtved are: the old grocer shop museum Bindeballe Købmandsgård; the Randbøldal Museum with outdoor water exploratorium; the windmills and watermills of Frederikshåb Mill Park; the Bronze Age barrow of the Egtved Girl; the Viking Age vestiges of the Ravning Bridge; and Robert Jacobsen and Jean Clareboudt's awe-inspiring sculpture park in Tørskind Grusgrav. Areas of natural beauty include the hills of Vork, the moorlands of Randbøl and the woodlands of Frederikshåb. The hilltop vantage point of Runkenbjerg offers amazing vistas of the valley. Vejle Ådal features many hiking and bicycling routes. The most famous is the Bindeballestien, which follows the now disused Vandelbane railway line from Vejle through Vejle Ådal to Bindeballe and the Ancient Road. Also worth a visit is the old Baroque church in Nørup and the area around Engelsholm Castle and the nearby lake. Vejle Ådal also offers several good restaurants and good accommodations. Egtved's history Egtved grew to prominence following the establishment of the Kolding-Egtved railway in 1898. The town had a railway link until 1930. The Højvang local heritage museum relates the story of the town's development from that of a small hamlet to a medium-sized town. Today the town offers good shopping opportunities.

Grene Sande – a unique piece of nature

The Billund region is generally a flat landscape. However, just south west of Billund town, you'll find Grene Sande rising - this unique piece of nature is a moving sand dune from the last Ice Age. The area around Grene Sande is perfect for hiking - with or without children. There are plenty of walking tracks to be discovered on either side of the main road, Billundvej, with trails through forest, heath land and inland sand dunes to enjoy. Trails range from 3.5-9 km. Picnic spots are plentiful - just make sure you've bought a rug to sit on and the scenery will take care of itself.

GREAT STORIES

ON THE TRAIL OF HISTORY

There are few places where you can enjoy a sense of history like you can in LEGOLAND Billund Resort. Here in the heart of Denmark, there are clear traces going right back to the runic stones of the Viking age, which boast of great exploits. It is not surprising that the region contains sites and towns which are already on the UNESCO World Heritage list or are on their way to becoming listed. Experience the dark Middle Ages in large castles and join in the play at the museums, where there is plenty of room for children and anyone who likes hands-on exhibits.

Gorilla Park

It's fun, healthy and challenging. Vejle's new treetop adventure park, Gorilla Park Vejle, offers hours of fun and a guaranteed adrenaline rush, regardless of age and experience.

Gorilla Park Vejle is a brand new treetop adventure park located in the beech woods of Nørreskoven - close to Vejle and not far from the beach, Albuen and the deer park. Here all aged over four enjoy a chance to scale the five treetop courses at heights of 1-20 metres. The total of 1.5 kilometres of climbing courses are graded according to difficulty and include zip-lines, base-jumps, Tarzan swings as well as climbing walls for killer snowboards.

Here you can enjoy everything from family fun to extreme sports activities for adrenaline junkies. The difficulty level is for you to choose. And you are always under the supervision of an instructor.

Gorilla Park uses the unique and award-winning safety system "SSB fall stop" from the German company Bornack. Upon arrival, all guests receive the necessary climbing and safety equipment and before activities begin they undergo climbing instructions lasting approx. 40 minutes. Climbing experience is not necessary - anyone can join.

Christiansfeld, Kolding

Christiansfeld, located just south of Kolding, is one of the most distinctive towns - and one of the most planned.

The town is named after the Danish King Christian the 7th, who founded the town in 1773 as a colony for the Moravians. The town is designed around a central space with two parallel streets. The entire town centre, constructed between 1773 and 1800, is remarkably well preserved and quite unique, and is now being restored with great respect for cultural heritage. For cake lovers, Christiansfeld is also worth a trip. The town is famous for its delicious honey cakes that have been baked here since 1783

The Company Town Route

Billund is unique. The town, its citizens and the LEGO Company have created modern Billund together. Walking along the Company Town

Route, you will gain an insight into the cultural history of the town and its development from a tiny heathland village into a high-tech knowledge city. The children's footsteps on the brightly coloured stones mark the route, and takes you past the important landmarks such as the Løvehuset (the Lion's House), built by Ole Kirk Kristiansen, the LEGO founder, in 1924. The route also runs through Billund's beautiful Sculpture Park. En route you will find several fun play activities for children of all ages.

The Jelling Monuments

Jelling is home to Europe's finest Viking-Age monuments: Denmark's two largest grave mounds and two runic stones erected by the kings Gorm the Old and Harald Bluetooth in the eighth century. In 1994, the royal monuments and Jelling Church came under the patronage of the UNESCO World Heritage List. The 10-meter northern mound, presumed to have been built by King Harald Bluetooth, contained a wooden burial chamber in which the king's father, Gorm the Old, had been entombed. The 70-meter southern mound is not actually believed to have been a burial site. The church sits between the two mounds and has an underground burial chamber. The smaller of the two large rune stones in front of the church was erected around 940-50 AD by Gorm the Old in honour of his queen, Thyra. The runic inscription reads: "Gorm the Old made this monument in honour of his wife, Thyra, the flower of Denmark". This is the oldest known reference to the name of the nation. The inscription on the larger of the two rune stones, erected by Harald Bluetooth, reads: "King Harald made this monument in honour of Gorm, his father, and Thyra, his mother. Harald who won Denmark - in entirety - and Norway and who brought Christianity to the Danes." The two rune stones, together with the church and the two grave mounds, are evidence of the transition from paganism to Christianity in Denmark and the change from Norse burial traditions to those of Christian religious practice. The Royal Jelling visitor's centre relates the inspiring story of the royal monuments, their origin and significance.

Trapholt

The only museum in Denmark, where you can see visual arts, crafts, design and furniture design. Even for children, Trapholt holds new experiences. The exhibitions are always offering new and exciting experience with international and Danish artists and designers. The museum has a fine collection of modern art and also contains Denmark's largest collection of chairs from the 20th Century, and Arne Jacobsen's unique holiday house. Trapholt's location and architecture is an attraction in itself. The Museum meanders through the sculpture park and a beautiful garden high above the Kolding Fjord. From the museum and cafe there is a fantastic view.

Royal Jelling Visitor's Centre

Royal Jelling - Kongernes Jelling - is a visitor's centre under the auspices of the National Museum of Denmark. The centre relates the story of the Jelling Monuments, created by Viking-age King Gorm the Old and his son King Harald Bluetooth. The eighth-century Jelling Monuments - two runic stones by the Jelling Church and two mighty royal burial mounds to the north and south of the church - came under UNESCO patronage in 1994.

The monuments reflect the transition from paganism to Christianity in Denmark and are often referred to as marking the birth of the Danish nation. One of the runic stones carries the oldest inscription in which reference is made to the nation of Denmark and its people.

The Royal Jelling visitor's centre, which is located in a scenic natural setting close to the monuments, relates the origin of the monuments and their religious and dynastic significance. Special exhibitions highlight a number of cultural and natural history aspects in relation to the monuments.

For children

Children of all ages will enjoy a visit to Royal Jelling. Here they have the chance to experience the Viking Age first-hand - to dress up as Vikings, play in a Viking tent, write their name with runic letters, read Viking books, and try a Viking game.

Fisheries and Maritime Museum in Esbjerg

140,000 m2 maritime experiences for the whole family. Go on a tour of discovery among the many displays on Danish fisheries, shipping at the west coast, the North Sea's fish and animal life and the Wadden Sea seals. The open air displays offer beach, dune, bunker, harbour, and not least, a maritime playground.

In the aquarium you meet first the Wadden Sea with its characteristic fauna, then the North Sea, where you get close to the larger species of fish. Dead-cert favourites are the hands-on pool, where you can pat a skate or a lesser spotted dogfish. See living wading birds in the Wadden Sea pavilion.

In the sealarium you get very close to the seals of the Wadden Sea. Do not miss the daily feeding of the seals at 11.00 and 14.30.

During the school holidays you can try out the old maritime crafts, touch marine animals in the laboratory, and listen to a talk on fish and seals while they're being fed in the aquarium and the sealarium.

Museet Ribes Vikinger

As an important centre of trade, Ribe was especially vital during the period from 710 AD to 850 AD, and the many local artifacts on view in the museum testify to the fact that Ribe was an important town not only in Denmark, but throughout Western Europe. The Museum Ribes Vikinger is situated at what was the harbour at the time when trading between Europe and the Northern countries took place. Underneath Sct. Nicolaj Gade lies the wooden thoroughfare used by the Vikings during the 8th century.

The Museum at Sønderkov

The museum on Sønderkov is a museum of cultural history of the Vejen region located at the historic Sønderkovgaard manor. The manor house is a baroque adaptation of a renaissance building from 1620 and contains a number of interesting decorations, including wall paintings, oil-painted canvas, hangings and exposed wood paintings. The museum shows permanent exhibitions, dealing with topics like the history of gardening and prehistoric findings from the region. In addition, the museum has special events such as the annual Christmas Fair at Sønderkov. At the museum you can find a historical herb garden which is cultivated by a group of volunteers.

Baldersbæk

The natural resort around the country seat Baldersbæk tells the story of Københavnerplantagerne (Copenhagener plantations), their owners and the view on nature at the beginning of the 20th century. Here you find original sandstone statues from Børsen (old building in Copenhagen), luxuriant carp ponds and a minor castle - in stark contrast to the once so poor heath plane.

The area around Villa Baldersbæk was restored in 2013-2014 making it possible to experience the many details of the place at short range. If you follow the marked path you will meet Treherredsstenen, the dolmen, the ice cellars, the carp ponds and the fountain "Den lumske Dreng" (the insidious boy) - the boy cannot keep tight and you start the squirt by stepping on the step. The fountain is on operation in the summer. "The castle" - so the villa at Baldersbæk is called - was patterned on Frederiksdal Slot when it was built. There is no public admittance to the villa, but it is possible to get rather close to it. The private area is marked clearly. The villa is still used for habitation.

The history Baldersbæk Plantage (the plantation) is the biggest of the Københavnerplantager in the area of Hovborg. In the year of 1900, approximately, wealthy Copenhagener together with Hedeselskabet (an association with the status of a business foundation) landscaped a number of plantations on the Jutlandic heath. Their motives were to make an effort for their mother country, to create jobs and to change cultural landscape – and, finally, to get a number of amenity values for themselves. Baldersbæk was landscaped by merchant Holger Petersen who invested both money and energy in the planting of the heath around Hovborg. In the year of 1891 he bought a decayed heath farm and 625 “tønder” (about 850 acres) of land. Here he landscaped Baldersbæk Plantage and built Villa Baldersbæk and in the year of 1910 the gardens and the natural grounds were planned.

The plantation is more varied than most other West Jutlandic plantations. You find quite a lot of birch trees as well as stretches of oaks. The oaks have become twisted due to trimming in earlier days.

Practical information:

Parking on the parking space on Baldersbækvej opposite the gardens. Here you find tables and benches and information boards. The marked path starts here. The area is well-provided with boards with QR codes enabling you to gather more information by your smartphone. There is special information for children.

TOWN - LIFE - SHOP

LEGOLAND Billund Resort

A mecca for shoppers

Take a stroll along pedestrian high streets with sun decked café squares, unique corner shops and basement art galleries. Or venture into large shopping centres with lots of space and all the international fashion stores. Whatever your preference, there's something for your taste in LEGOLAND Billund Resort's provincial towns.

Sea trading port

Around the year 1200, Middelfart was called Melfar. Melfar means 'the waters you travel between'. Middelfart was, and still is, the crossing point between Funen and Jutland. In the past the crossing was from Kongebrohavnen, close to the old bridge, to Snoghøj on the Jutland side. When the old Little Belt Bridge was opened in 1935 trains, cars and pedestrians crossed the Belt via the bridge. Thus, Strib lost its status as a ferry town through which all rail transport used to come.

Middelfart's old harbour runs parallel to the pedestrian street and stretches into the beech woods a bit further on. At the Old Harbour you can see many old wooden boats, the Lillebælt shipyard and boathouses. It is also from here you can take a boat trip on the Little Belt, for example a whale safari on the AVENTURA and Mira3.

From Middelfart's charming old harbour you can stroll up into the old part of town. Here you can see the old half-timbered houses in the narrow streets leading down to the Little Belt.

Brørup Marked

Experience the real market atmosphere at "Brørup Husdyrauktion og Kræmmermarked - Brørup Marked". Every Friday morning there is cheerful and casual atmosphere when all the hawkers install their stalls to sell all their bits and bobs, fruits and vegetables and living small animals like poultry and rabbits. Brørup Marked is composed of an outside hawkers' market - Kræmmermarked - a hawkers' market in 3 houses - Det indre Marked - and a market for farm animals - Brørup Husdyrauktion.

It is a great experience to walk about the many stalls, watch the wide range of goods, find missing things and to haggle over the price. Most people come to Brørup Marked in order to make a good bargain and to chat. Both children and adults will find good things and get a thrill. There are no catchpenny shows, shooting booths and merry-go-rounds at the market.

At 12.00 hours the farm animal auction begins. Here farmers and businessmen buy and sell calves, cows and bulls for millions of kroner in the best traditional auction manner in a hectic atmosphere. You are welcome at the auction - but if you wave, you may have bid on a cow!

Good bargains are celebrated in Markedsrestauranten where you get solid classic meals with plenty of meat and sauce.

Billund Sculpture Park

Right between Billund center and the theme parks LEGOLAND and Lalandia, lies Billund Sculpture Park as a delightful oasis for both children and adults. Walking, biking or jogging through Billund Sculpture Park gives you a sense of how art, culture and nature can merge into one amazing experience. Several of the sculptures call for play, activity and discovery. The sculpture collection consists of 17 permanent works located along the 1.3 km long, paved path. Along the way, you'll find several benches, so you can easily bring a lunch basket or coffee.
