Bratislava - the little big city. With fewer than half a million people, Bratislava ranks among Europe's most relaxed capitals, because everything is in close vicinity, reachable within a few minutes walking distance. It even has two capital cities nearby - Vienna (80km) and Budapest (200km) - reachable also by a boat on the river Danube. The city itself has its old-town charm, sophisticated restaurants, traditional pubs, good music ranging from jazz to opera, stylish people, and a human scale which means that as a visitor you will not spend half your day trekking in and out of underground stations or getting from the airport into town. All this with Central Europe's greatest river as a backdrop.

THE CITY

emperorcisar/Shutterstock.com

The Capital of the Slovak Republic, Bratislava, also referred to as the Beauty on the Danube, can not only boast interesting history but it is also the centre of the most dynamically developing region of central Europe at present.

Bratislava is situated in the south-west of Slovakia and stretches on both banks of the Danube and in the foothills of the Little Carpathian Mountains. Slovakia's borders with Hungary, to the south, and Austria, to the west, make it the only capital city to border two neighbouring countries. In addition, the Czech Republic is only 62 kilometres away. The Austrian capital Vienna is only 60 kilometres distant, making them among the world's closest capital cities. Thanks to this favourable position it was always a commercial centre. Today the historic places are witness to the rapid development of the young Slovak Republic.

In spite of its exciting history, Bratislava is one of the youngest capitals in the world and its population is also very young. The modern metropolis is open to Europe and to the world as proved by the increasing number of foreign visitors from many diverse countries. They are attracted to the cosiness of the rather small city that nevertheless possesses a throbbing social life and historic charms combined with the most recent trends. Palaces, modern shopping, works of art by Slovak chefs and brewers, friendly people and various international cultural or sport events, exhibitions, and business opportunities are the reasons why it is worth of visit.

DO & SEE

RossHelen/Shutterstock.com

Bratislava is not just the political but is also the cultural and sporting capital of Slovakia. Owing to its historically multi-ethnic character, the city's cultural scene is a product of various influences: German, Slovak, Hungarian, and Jewish, among others. Bratislava boasts numerous theatres, museums, galleries, concert halls, cinemas, film clubs, and foreign cultural institutions.

It also has the country's biggest football and ice hockey teams, a purpose-built white-water rafting centre on the Danube, and numerous walking and cycling trails in or near the city. High-quality spa and relaxation facilities are increasingly popular throughout Slovakia and easily accessible. Bratislava has numerous coffee shops and restaurants, offering international as well as Slovak cuisine, including lively bars and clubs.

Traditional Christmas Markets

Every year, since 1993, between the end of November and December 23rd, Bratislava is hosting big Christmas markets in the city centre. Enjoy the advent atmosphere on the squares and streets of the Old town. Taste the traditional Slovak delicacies and warm up your body with Christmas punch, honey schnapps or hot wine made of red or black currant. This market is truly popular among locals and tourists, probably the city never gets so constantly packed as it is during the Christmas period.

Bratislava goes classical

The Bratislava Goes Classical project is a new art and marketing project of the destination management organization of Bratislava - the capital city of the Slovak Republic / The Bratislava Tourist Board. Its task is to present unique classical music productions such as Opera, Ballet, Philharmonic and chamber concerts in one spot. This way both visitors and fans of classical music gain easy access to all events related to this music genre without having to search on different pages and bulletins. The project seeks to enlarge the possibilities for tourists to spend their free time in Bratislava enjoying classical music productions.

BARS & NIGHTLIFE

David Vadkerti/Shutterstock.com

Bratislava has a growing number of good places to go and is building a reputation as a nightlife capital. If you are having a night out, just ask the locals. Top Slovak beers that are definitely worth a few rounds include Zlaty Bazant or Kelt.

In recent years, Bratislava's club scene has completely reinvented itself. In came DJ's and funky cocktails, out went the go-go dancers and burly doormen. Listings detailing what's going on can be found throughout town.

The Dubliner

This is a very popular Irish pub that draws in the expats as well as locals. Typical of an Irish pub overseas, there is memorabilia galore, which includes a cobbled street. The Guinness naturally flows from The Dubliner's enormous bar. Bands play most nights and the atmosphere is fittingly friendly and loud.

Bratislava Airport - M.R.Štefánik

Airport Bratislava is located approximately 9 km from the city center and about a 50 minutes drive from the International Vienna

Airport Schwechat.

There is a regular bus service from both airports to Bratislava city centre:

From Bratislava Airport: outside the arrivals/departure terminal operated by the Municipal public transport - bus Nr. 61, transfer at Hlavna stanica (Main railway station), change to Bus Nr. X13 - get off at Nam. SNP - to get to the city centre. The journey would take approximately 30 minutes.

By taxi it will take around 15 minutes, you will find the taxi stand in front of the Arrival terminal.

Airport Bratislava offers also several car rental services, which you can find in the public area of the Arrivals terminal: Avis, Sixt, Eurocar, Alamo, Hertz, Enterprise, Budget and Europcar.

From Vienna International Airport Schwechat: daily shuttle bus Blaguss or Slovak Lines, leaving every 30 minutes from 6:20am until 12:45am.

Public Transport

Most sights and places of interest to tourists can be found in the city centre, or within walking distance of the pedestrianised old town.

If you need to travel further afield within the city, the best way to do so is by public transport.

Bratislava has a comprehensive network of public transport lines running at regular intervals according to defined timetables. Departure times and a list of destinations, with the journey time to each, are posted for each service at every stop it serves.

Daily operation: buses, trams and trolleybuses run from 5am until 11.30pm.

Tickets:

-one-way ticket valid for 15 min

-multiple-ride ticket valid for 60 min

-weekend multiple-ride ticket valid for 90min

-touristic ticket valid for 24, 48, 72 and 168 hours - unlimited travel

-children under 6 years of age travel for free

Night operation: on selected bus routes from 11:30pm until 3:30am.

Tickets:

- night ticket valid for 90 min, multiple ride
- prepaid tickets (PCL) 30-, 90- and 365-day ticket (personal chip card is needed)
- touristic ticket valid for 24, 48, 72 and 168 hours - unlimited travel

Passengers are required to buy a ticket in a yellow ticket machine at a bus stop, at a newspaper kiosk or at a DPB shop before getting on board. Right after boarding the vehicle, passengers must stamp their ticket in the nearest stamping machine. A ticket that has not been stamped is not valid.

Ticket inspection

A passenger who cannot provide a valid ticket to the inspector will have to pay a fine in accordance with the currently valid public transport code.

Lost and found

In case of loss of personal belongings, the passenger must contact Dopravný podnik Bratislava, at: +421 2 5950 5950.

Taxi

Unlike cities in other countries, in Slovakia, it is cheaper to order a taxi by phone than to hail one on the street. The price per kilometre varies from 0,50 Euro-cents and up. When getting one on the street, the price might be double or more. We highly recommend to agree on the price before getting in the car. Short distance trips are charged at minimum 4 EUR.
