Eger Turizmus

Eger is one of Hungary's most famous towns, characterised by superior wines, natural healing water springs, and noteworthy monuments. It was founded in 1004 C. A., around the time King Stephen made Christianity the religion of the nation. Eger is influenced by Christian and Turkish culture, Baroque and Classicist architecture.

The town has a charming medieval atmosphere, where a thousand-year-old castle, thirty-eight temple towers and hills with vineyards provide a compelling backdrop.

THE CITY

Szerfőző Péter / Eger Turizmus

Eger is a friendly town with a nice vibe and plenty to inspire you. From Spring to Autumn, there are on-going festivals and events involving wine, gastronomy, music and culture.

In the upcoming 6 weeks (March 15th- May 1st) there is Spring Festival going on in Eger, with lot's of cultural happnings, winetastings and in April 29-May 1st weekned, the so lovely "Stars of Eger Wine & Food truck show". Come and enjoy it with us!

Inner City

The really great thing about a small city is the way you can get a sense of the place, and navigate it really quickly, allowing you to feel at home. In addition to this, Eger is an entertaining, diverting, educating, relaxing and delicious place.

Due to diverse things of interest to do and see, it really is a very big little town. The restaurants and cafes have their own styles and atmosphere and offer something for everyone- a quick tasty snack or a fine dining experience, something delicious for a couple of euros, as well as locally sourced, handmade, organic ingredients. As you can imagine there's always a great selection of wine as well.

Valley of beautiful Women (wine cellars)

This is a great place bursting with eating and drinking opportunities which can be reached by foot from the centre of town in around 15 minutes, but if this might prove exhausting (after visiting wine cellars and chatting the owners, wine-tasting, sampling exclusive limited edition bottles, wine degustation dinners), there's always the little electric train or bicycling to get you there and back, and playground to entertain the littlest ones.

Noszvaj

Noszvaj is a small fairy tale village about 20 minutes away by bus or car from Eger, which has much to offer the outdoor types: rambling, easier and more difficult hiking trails, a boating lake and a children 's playground .For indoor types and those hungry after the outdoor activity, there's an opportunity to eat something delicious at Rozmaring étterem (Rosemary Restaurant): A Hungarian couple who learned to cook in South Tyrol moved here bringing with them Italian cuisine and found interesting ways of combining it with the flavours of the Lower Bükk (Bükkalja) region.

Szalajka völgy (Szalajka valley)

25km from Eger, the Szalajka Valley is one of Hungary's most popular beauty spots, bursting out of a stalactite cave, crystal-clear spring water runs through the valley. There are plenty of interesting family friendly activities here: the adventure park, prehistoric caves, an open-air forest museum, a game reserve with fallow deer and wild sheep, waterfalls and rides on the little railway.

Address: Szilvásvár

Egerszalók

5 km from Eger, it's easy to reach Egerszalók by bus, car or bicycle. This village was established by the time Hungary was founded around 995 C.E.

Its most famous attribute is the spring water which gushes up from 410m depth at a temperature between 65-68C, and as it cascades out from the hillside, it has created a 1,200m² limestone deposit.

The spectacle, unique in Europe, and only seen in two other places in the world: in Asian Turkey at Pamukkale and in the USA, in Yellowstone Park.

On to this spring a spa bath has been built containing 21 indoor and outdoor pools, medicinal mineral sitting baths, bubbling hot tubs, children's pools and slides.

TOP EVENTS

Eger Turizmus

Whether you come to Eger to rest because you're tired, looking forward to a relaxing spa weekend, or to burn some energy in a club, doing outdoor activities and sports - whatever you do, come hungry and thirsty. As well as the regular festivals scheduled from spring to autumn -- classical, popular, choral and street music -- the architecture, historical sites and events, mountains, lakes and a cool atmosphere, there are quiet side streets, or vibrant bustling squares-- Eger is the place to walk, hike, dance, read, cycle, fish, soak, think, sit, listen, drink and eat. For more details about the events visit the visiteger.com webpage.

Spring Cultural Festival

The Spring Festival is an integral part of the cultural life of Eger. Always a great and colourful selection of pop and classical music concerts, exhibitions, choral performances, theatre productions and children's entertainment.

Egri Csillag Weekend

Eger's iconic wines will be celebrated at the Egri Csillag Weekend. The Star of Eger is a terroir wine, a white sister to Bull's Blood. The wine is always interesting to try because there are as many versions of this light, elegant refreshing drink, as there are wine makers. This year the festival will be held on Dobo Square (the main square), where street food and pop concerts will spice up the atmosphere.

Address: Eger, Dobó István tér

Street Music Festival

This is one of the coolest festivals in Eger. Street musicians invade the city, at least 50 bands, 150 musicians, playing five consecutive days in the charming downtown streets and squares. There is a real sense of freedom with music practically everywhere. From authentic Hungarian folk music to jazz through ska, funk and rock & roll, in various locations in the city, 12 hours a day. For those who like to be in the middle of things, in a bubbly atmosphere, this is the place from 12th -16th June 2020. Really, it's not to be missed! There is no fixed venue, no entry fee, but there is dancing, fun and a really positive party mood.

Bikavér (Bull's Blood) Wine Celebration

Eger's largest fest runs from 9th -12th July 2020 and it's called Bull's Blood celebration. This year it's the 22st anniversary. This is no ordinary festival and wine tasting. This is a happening that you can only feel properly, experience directly, in situ. The gathering, in addition to providing good music, a great atmosphere and tasting the great wines, is an opportunity to just simply feel good in the city's largest wine-gastronomic event. The venue is the charming Érsek Garden.

Castle Festivities

In the middle of August at the Castle Museum, you can see the glorious and epic 1552 defence of Eger re-enacted. This date is not only a source of pride for Eger; it also plays an important role in Hungarian history. This was the year that Hungarian soldiers stopped the advance of a Turkish invading force, 30 times larger. The Castle Festivities also include a demonstration of historical weapons, traditional troops, and military parades of the time. You can find activities for all of the family here.

Advent in Eger

Eger is Nr.1 destination in North Hungary, and during advent it is even more attractive, as the town transforms into a fairytale world. On the main square - Dobó square - there is a Christmas Market with huts. You can find here:

- delicious hot wines with interesting flavours,
- local street food goodies, such as the roll shaped sweet treat 'Kurtosh Kalach',
- and the classic Hungarian pies topped with bacon and soured cream, onion.

During the 24 days of the Market there will be heard Christmas songs as well.

Beside the cultural and culinary experience, explore the local craftsmen's products on the main square and in the nearby shops.

Join us to Eger and feel the festive vibes!

Szederinda International Children, Youth and Adult Folkdance Festival

Besides Hungarian folkdance ensembles also concerts of foreign performers, folkmusic artists and folk art fair are waiting for the visitors. The programmes of the three-day event can be seen at several venues in the city centre.

Eger Castle Day

The István Dobó Castle Museum each year organizes Eger Castle Day on October 17th. The commemoration pays homage to the heroic defence of the castle in 1552, when a small number of Hungarian troops, under siege and vastly outnumbered, repelled the repeated attacks of the Turks. A little impromptu time travel is possible. On the day, you can walk among soldiers in period dress and watch re-enacted battle scenes. Children can dress up as 16th century soldiers. The scenery helps recreate the era so well it might encourage the adults to let their inner child out to play.

DO & SEE

Eger Városi Turisztikai Kft. / Eger Turizmus

In Eger you are never far away from all the highlights. Another advantage of this small city is the diversity of distractions and entertainment. In practice, this means there are visitors with many interests of every age throughout the year.

It is as common to see families leave the grandparents at one of the many cafes, while the younger ones go off to discover the town, as it is to see the youngsters being left at a cool bar while the parents go to admire the Baroque architecture.

It's fair to say that only those people who enjoy eating, drinking, history, sport, adventure events, architecture or art will enjoy spending time here. It's not a mystery as to why the town's population swells to twice its size during the high season.

Winetasting

Eger and its surrounding region has volcanic mineral-rich soil which particularly enables the production of outstanding wines. One such iconic wine is Bull's Blood – a deep red cuvee, and its white twin, the light and elegant Egri Csillag (Star of Eger). Practically every restaurant in Eger stocks good wines, but if you're really looking for exceptional bottles go directly to wine bars such as Fuzio, AES Wine & Spa and the nearly 200 wine cellars of Szépasszonyvölgy (Valley of Beautiful Women).

Hiking & Biking

Eger and its surrounding mountains offer many trails for hiking and nature rambles, comfortable or challenging, to suit all abilities and moods. The city is an ideal place for cycling, and for those who are up for something more testing, the nearby forests offer excellent terrain. The area presents many exciting activities; horse riding, boating, birdwatching, visiting waterfalls, a trip on the little forest railway and fishing. For more information, see the "Active" section.

Spa Time

There are two kinds of natural spring waters in Eger: radon curative water and sulphurous thermal water, which make Eger unique throughout the world. The Eger Thermal Bath was opened in 1932. One of Hungary's nicest park baths is popular with those recuperating, doing sports or just having fun in a beautiful green environment. The bath is a real paradise for kids. A pool castle, huge slides and beautiful water lilies turn spa time into an unforgettable experience.

Festivals and Fun

Eger is a sparkling place for entertainment. Spring starts with a wine and gastro festival 'Egri Csillag Weekend' -the last weekend of April, followed by the rock and underground 'FestEger' - the last weekend of May. The most remarkable event of the year is 'The Bikaver Wine Celebration', annually held on the 2nd weekend of July, where premium wines and excellent dishes are served. Historical plays in the castle and family events take place throughout the whole summer to delight and engage kids and parents alike.

Chilling out

The medieval baroque town, its little winding streets, atmospheric cafés, bars and restaurants, the scent of flowers and historic places combine to create a nice, relaxing, chill-out vibe. The town itself encourages visitors to slow down and appreciate the beauty of the moment, and then literally wake-up and smell and taste the coffee.

Turkish Wellness – The Hammam

There was a Turkish pasha, Pasha Arnaut, who had a beautiful spa with golden cupola built in our town, so that Muslims could have a place to bath and socialise in pleasant surroundings. This wonderful spa is still here, after several renovations, and is still welcoming guests with six pools, and high-quality wellness and healthcare-services. For a special treat we recommend you choose the authentic Hammam massage, you'll feel like a teenager, we promise... especially if you are under twenty years old. ;)

Eger Castle and Museum

The castle is one of the key icons of Eger. The heroic defence in 1552 made the castle famous when the small number of defenders led by captain István Dobó repelled the many times larger Turkish army in a heroic struggle. The castle is honoured to be part of Hungary's cultural heritage. It is not only a legendary monument, but a living fortress that keeps 16th century's traditions alive. The year is full of medieval festivals and knight tournaments, events for the pleasure of history lovers and families alike.

Basilica

The Basilica is the only Classicist building in Eger, and the second largest church in Hungary. It was built on the designs of József Hild from 1831 to 1836, and commissioned by archbishop Pyrker. The statues standing outside the cathedral are works of the Italian master: Marco Casagrande. On the front, there are the statues of the two Hungarian saint kings István and László, on the back there are the two main apostles: Peter and Paul. The peristyle in front of the main entrance is reminiscent of the Pantheon in Rome. If you are interested in organ concerts, please come at noon, there is music every day between 15. May - 15. October.

Turkish Minaret

ATTENTION! THE MINARET IS CLOSED DUE TO RECONSTRUCTION: May-Oct 2017. The northernmost Minaret of the Ottoman Empire can be found in Eger, built in 1596. The Minaret is a monument for practicing the Muslim religion from where the muezzin called believers to prayers five times a day. The Minaret is a 14m square based 40m high tower, in which 97 steps lead to the top. After a pleasant walk, there is another authentic phenomenon of Turkish culture: The Pasha's Tent. It is a good idea to tuck into original Turkish coffee, tea and sweets here.

The Archbishop's Palace

This is the home of the Archbishopric Collection, exhibiting valuable church treasures. The objects displayed are outstanding masterpieces of 18th and 19th c. gold and silversmithing- and textile arts: tabernacles, bowls, mass vestments, mantles. Objects connected to Gábor Endrődy, bishop of Eger, having been presented to him by Empress Maria Teresa, are especially valuable. The mantle is famous as it is the coronation mantel of Maria Teresa.

Archbishop's Garden

The nicest park in town is the Ersekkert (Archbishop's Garden). Originally a hunting ground, it was converted into decorative gardens. Following the French school of park and landscape design, the garden offers resting places in amongst the greenery for everyone. Children have a playground, and the sportier types can find a running track and tennis court here. It's a popular date rendezvous point for the young, and in the summer there are open air concerts at the pavilion.

Main Square – Dobó Tér

This square is the central point of the town. Pleasant restaurants, ice cream parlours cafes are to be found here. Take a minute to really look at the town and feel its vibe. There's a good likelihood that there'll be a nice little concert or event is going on. In the recently renovated main square, lined with beautiful buildings, sits the statue of the famous defender of Eger Castle Istvan Dobo which was erected in 1907. It's worth meandering around the side streets to get a feel for the place, noticing the small details, easily overlooked in the daily hustle and bustle: signage, gates, balustrades and balconies of handcrafted wrought iron.

Minorite Church

By the 13th century the Franciscan Order built a church in the town centre which was made into a Mosque during the Turkish occupation of Hungary. When the Turks were driven out in the 17th century, the General of the Imperial forces donated it back to the Franciscan order (who refer to their order as lesser or “minor” in Latin, out of humility, hence the term Minorite to mean Franciscan monks). By the 18th century they had rebuilt the church which is dedicated to Saint Antony of Padua. It is one of Hungary’s foremost examples of the Baroque aesthetic in ecclesiastical architecture. Masses are held on Monday – Saturday at 17:00, Sunday 16:30. Due to the links between Poland and Eger, at 09:30 on Sundays, mass is celebrated in Polish.

Kepes Galéria

György Kepes studied at the Royal Academy of Fine Arts in Budapest. Originally trained in impressionist styles he soon felt attracted to the abstract visual language of the avant-garde and expressed a deep interest in the potential of the technological to depict the visible world, in particular the effects of light. Throughout his life, Kepes continued to paint, while at the same time exploring different techniques, such as double exposure, photograms and “photo-drawings” as new ways to use light. Having been born near Eger, György Kepes donated 200 pieces of his work to the town in 1991, which is exhibited in the Kepes Galley.

Kopcsik Marcipánia

Lajos Kopcsik is an internationally well-known master-confectioner, who is a Confectionary Oscar’s award Winner, and Guinness record holder. His works go back several decades. The objects made of sugar and almond paste represent fine arts, applied arts, folk arts, and the symbols of Eger. With children in mind, there are nicely decorated story books exhibited, as well. There is a display of 150 objects made of sugar-icing, for example a 2-meter-high wine-bottle, or the Eger Minaret in miniature. Located next to the “Marzipanerie” is the confectionary shop, where those with a sweet tooth can find mouth-watering delicacies, truffles and very edible marzipan creations.

Egri Road Beatles Museum

Egri Road Beatles Museum is Central-Eastern Europe's only constant Beatles collection, where visitors can relive the legendary times of the Fab Four.

The owners spent apparently 50 years collecting the over 2 000 artifacts related to the Liverpool Four. The visit starts with a short movie about the childhood of the lads. Afterwards you start your visit at the ground level where all the information is available in both Hungarian and English. There are relics from all over the world and not only albums or concert tickets but pins, dolls, clocks and even porcelain items. The exhibition is very detailed, the guides are very kind and there are lots of possibilities for games and interactive engagement. With visitors from over 75 countries it is considered to be a must-see for anybody visiting Eger. Two hours of fun - totally recommended!

DINING

Macok Bistro & Wine Bar / Eger Turizmus

As Hungary's 19th largest city, Eger is remarkably well served with restaurants, bistros and cafes to suit every mood and pocket. Since it's warm enough to sit outside for almost half the year, the city becomes a spectacular dining room. The size of the town means it's easy to navigate, even on foot, if the wine tastings are too many and too delicious to deny yourself.

It's fantastic produce, well-established vineyards, architecture, historical and cultural substance and variety of good quality and value for money restaurants all combine to make Eger an eater's and drinker's delight.

Senator-ház / Senator House

Always one of the locals' favourite places, this iconic restaurant is situated in a hotel built in the 17th century. As well as Hungarian, international (Italian and French) home cooking is available. If you can, try a Hungarian classic veal paprikás stew with noodles and cucumber salad here, or something a with a modern interpretation - the ginger rosé duck breast with-honeyed kohlrabi. In fine weather, sit out on the terrace and enjoy feeling the energy flow of the city.

1552 Étterem / 1552 Restaurant

The appropriately named restaurant is located in the Eger Castle. 1552 was the year of the heroic Hungarian struggle against the unrelenting Turkish siege, which left its mark culturally on the town and this restaurant.

Here, classic Hungarian dishes sit happily next to Turkish specialties on the menu, in a pleasant contemporary atmosphere. Eger's wines also have a major role to play. The best wines of five very well-known winemakers can all be tasted here. Anyone who loves a bit of time travel can sit out on the shady terrace and get a feel for the historic atmosphere of the place. The lucky ones might get to see a parade of chivalrous heroes pass by as well.

Macok Bistro & Wine Bar

Nouvelle Cuisine at the foot of Eger Castle.

According to the Gault & Millau restaurant guide rating, this is the best restaurant in the region

The place is casually elegant and very friendly.

The raw materials from the area's best small producers are really excellent, such as the locally sourced trout, Bükk cheese, ham, mushrooms and homemade pastas. The wines are special, some are straight from the collector's cellar: St Andrea, Kalo Imre Kovacs Nimrod, etc.

Szantofér Restaurant

Established 80 years ago, this is the only real Hungarian style eatery in the central town along with international classic dishes. This is the place to get every day, home-style family favourites.

The restaurant was founded by Auntie

Szanthofer, whose recipes include the Hungarian interpretation of these classics: cassoulet, special gnocchi (sztrapacska), Rooster's "Eggs" stew. On weekdays, varied menus are offered, such as főzelék (a Hungarian staple made of one vegetable such as peas or beans or potatoes, in a tasty roux sauce) and other daily specials.

This friendly restaurant on the main square (Dobo Ter) is a popular place for a beer in the evening.

According to the locals, it is the home of the world's best oxtail soup, which is as traditional here as the ancient breed of Hungarian Steppe (or Grey) Cattle herded on the nearby Puszta. The menu offers both Hungarian classics and more international fayre here, too. If you get the chance, sample a glass of artisanal draught beer, maybe follow it with a nice little shot of Eger home-made Palinka* (schnapps).

*Don't make the mistake of thinking Palinka is like the sticky sweet "schnapps" sold in some less authentic places. Hungarian Palinka is more like Grappa, Eau de Vie, Slivovitz, or Rakia - not for the fans of alcopops. In 2010, small home-brewed product was legalised for sale, not just private consumption, meaning that it can be bought commercially which gives rise to a wide variety of flavours and styles, none of them for the faint hearted.

Déj Vu

Déj Vu is a safe choice on the main street. Young people come here for the nice selection of pizza, coffee, beer and cocktail offer, but it is popular among families as well for its children meals. The atmosphere is modern and elegant, you won't see any extreme punk or rocker around. If you like Saturday nights' vibes, come here and start your "Eger-by-night" tour from Déj Vu.

Il Padrino

This is a tiny little place in Eger that serves real Italian pizza. The ham is truly from Parma, the Parmesan cheese is authentically Italian, as is the science of pizza making. After a 2-minute walk from the castle via a narrow side street you will find the snug pizzeria with 2 -3 tables on the pavement outside. For such a neat little place it offers a sizeable choice - 28 kinds of pizza, salads, and desserts. The combination of very finely made pasta and an Italian atmosphere make it a big favourite with the locals.

Ködmön Csárda / Ködmön Inn

As a great way to try out Hungarian cuisine we suggest the Ködmön Csárda, in Szépasszonyvölgy (The Valley of Beautiful Women). For starters try the Steak tartar, made from freshly minced beef, for main dishes choose from old favourites like the bacon, chicken breast with sheep cheese gnocchi, or a nice little catfish stew. Enjoy your meal on the charming terrace sipping limited edition and exclusive wines such as a Pinot Noir Aszú from Tamas Sike. The flavours and the feeling make for a really memorable experience.

Kulacs Csárda / Kulacs Inn

A cellar club with a historic feeling in Szépasszonyvölgy (the Valley of Beautiful Women) was established in the 1980's. A real Hungarian atmosphere, in the truest sense, springs to life here: good food, wine and lively dancing. In cold weather, the heated basement is a great place to eat, drink and be merry, and when the weather is good, enjoy the huge grapevine draped garden. In addition to the fish, game, poultry dishes on offer there are Hungarian specialties, and the masterpieces of the Eger wine region's best winemakers. The good mood is further assisted by the inn's virtuoso gipsy band.

Rozmaring Étterem / Rosemary Restaurant - Noszvaj

This is a really family-friendly restaurant set in a fairy tale village near Eger, called Noszvaj. A Hungarian couple who learned to cook in South Tyrol moved here bringing with them Italian cuisine and found interesting ways of combining it with the flavours of the Lower Bükk (Bükkalja) region. The pasta is homemade, the gorgonzola and spinach noodles are reminiscent of Italy, and there's always a typically local choice, such as leg of wild boar with a potato donut. The kiddiewinks love this place too; there are toys, small pizzas, lots of space, and cosiness abounds.

CAFÉS AND SWEETS

Café Dobos / Eger Turizmus

The Eger locals are really spoilt for choice when it comes to cafés. They are not seasonal establishments waiting only for the fleeting tourist trade. Consistency of quality and style are the foundations for the success of these places of refreshment. There is a style for everyone: student chic, elegant and relaxed, virtuosity in confectionary, artisanal sensibilities in patisserie and ice cream, and very serious attention to coffee roasting.

Kis sziget kávézó

The Kis sziget (Small island) café and bar is the place for both a morning coffee and an evening social drink. It is really cosy and the hospitality is cordial; there's a real 'dolce vita' feeling here.

Locally sourced, high quality ingredients go into the specialty coffees, cocktails, smoothies and juices, as well as the cookies and sandwiches which are freshly made daily.

Sárvári Sweet-shop

This confectioner's shop has operated on the same spot since 1928. The fourth generation of the family now carries on the multiple award winning standards of Kalman Sárvári, master confectioner: the ice creams are made exclusively by natural processes, and the pastries and cakes are home-made, from traditional recipes. Of particular interest here is something called "Fruit coffee" which has an invigorating, energising effect despite the fact that it's caffeine-free. It's made from fruit shells, fruit stones and fruit pits, and because it contains natural fructose, there's no need to sweeten it.

WITH KIDS

Eger Városi Turisztikai Kft. / Eger Turizmus

Eger is a great place if you travel with kids. There are historic festivals all summer, with a peak in August 12-14, when we imitate the famous siege of 1552, when Eger transforms into a place of the 16th century. Apart of this, there are children festivals, playgrounds in the downtown area, thermal spas, cave spas and sliders to cool down a little bit and adventure parks nearby to meet some outdoor challenges. Hiking & Biking is also a great option for active families.

Érsekkert (Bishop's Garden) Playground

The Bishop's Garden is Eger's largest park. Small lakes and a beautiful fountain make this park the favourite of many. In good weather, this is an excellent place to have a picnic, take a walk, or reserve a place on the clay tennis court. Those with small children should make sure to try out this playground in the shade of giant chestnut trees: swings, sandpit, climbing frames, and a fenced basketball court for active families. If you get hungry, why not lunch in the middle of the park, at Excalibur restaurant. It has a medieval theme which means meals are served in wooden bowls. Feel free to eat with your hands if the mood takes you. The only thing left to decide is whether to have sword fried chicken or wild boar soup served in a hollowed loaf. An adventurous experience for children and adults alike.

Eger Thermal Baths

A few minutes from the city centre is this adventure island with open air and indoor swimming pools, 12 in total, as well as water slides, sports courts, and a children's playground. Unforgettable experiences are created in the castle pool for the little ones, where battles are held with the little castle's water cannon. For bigger ones splashing down on the giant slides is very popular, as is having a swim in the open air 50m long competition pool. There's fun for everyone in the varied temperatures of the 12 pools, all with their own character.

"History Up Close" Gun Show

On weekends from March to October, both adults and children can participate in the "History up close" Gun Show. The castle visitors will see 16th-century soldiers in traditional period dress. They reenact the famous 1552 siege, and using the sites described in the Hungarian classic novel (The Stars of Eger / The Eclipse of the Crescent Moon), they tell stories about the everyday life of the border fortress soldiers, the heroes of Eger, and thousand year history of the Castle of Eger.

Szilvásvár Adventure Park

In Szilvásvár, in Szalajka Valley, is one of the most exciting adventure parks in Hungary. The park has five separate areas: the nursery course, the adrenaline course, flying fox course, forest adventure course and a balance course. This is the place for those who love nature, challenges, or simply staying active. Next to the adventure park is the surprisingly addictive summer bobsleigh track. Those families with a romantic soul can opt for the little red railroad. After a 15 minute ride to the terminal station you can play football, hide and seek and enjoy a picnic. The place is a big favourite for a fun day out with families.

Cascade Barlang (Cascade Cave and Adventure Baths)

Whatever the seasons or the weather the Cascade Cave and Adventure Baths offer a really unique experience. The cavern is fed by a spring that is tens of thousands of years old. The more adventurous try the 25 metre high "kamikaze" slide, the more cautious chose the slower, winding "Anaconda" slide. For those coming with small children, the "Family slide" and "Story Island" pool offer a magical experience. Floating along on the 133 metre-long "Lazy River" provides further care-free amusement. The Cascade Cave and Adventure Baths are pleasantly warm; the water temperature is between 33-38 °C and varies between the different pools.

Children's Day at Eger Castle

On Sunday May 29th, 2016, the Castle of Eger is hosting a very jolly Children's Day event. A time travel adventure for little ones and not-so-little ones. On this children's day the littlest ones are invited on a historical adventure into the past. The children can take part in the Chivalry Test (swordsmanship, archery, target-shooting, wall climbing, obstacle course), falconry demonstration, and historic playhouses. Those who have energy left can go to the Castle's workshop to make themselves an arts and crafts souvenir of the eventful day.

Castle Festivities - Historical Festival

The historical festival and siege games will be held in Eger Castle from 14th to 16th August 2016.

Visitors to Eger on these dates can really feel part of a bit of historical time travel. Family events, chivalry tests, exhibitions, dance, and contemporary mastercraftsmen demonstrations await interested guests. You can see crafts such as horseshoe forging, pottery and felting. Children are recruited to swashbuckle with wooden swords, and defeat the invading Turks with a bombardment of socks. The event culminates with a reenactment; nearly 150 chivalrous soldiers evoking the glorious 1552 struggle against the Turkish troops.

Eger Sightseeing train

A very comfortable way to see Eger; every day a small train runs interesting sightseeing excursions in and around the town. It provides an entertaining experience for children and adults alike, going from the picturesque centre of Eger to the famous Szépasszony-völgy (Valley of Beautiful Women). Here you will find wine cellars, wine-tasting opportunities and restaurants. It runs every day between 10:00 and 18:00, every hour and every half hour. The return ticket allows passengers to linger between return runs. This means you can spend plenty of time at the wine cellars in the valley before coming back to town.

ACTIVE

Eger Városi Turisztikai Kft. / Eger Turizmus

Outdoor and adventure activities are well-catered for, in and around Eger. Facilities provided by nature such as the Eged Mountains, Lake Tisza, Bükk Forest, natural springs, rutting stags, meteorites and waterfalls are augmented by the manmade.

The wildlife preserve, paragliding and plane tours, restaurants, cycle path network and a light railway add to the thrills, perspectives convenience and comfort when enjoying the great outdoors near the Hungarian Great Plain.

Hiking – Nagy-Eged Mountain

Even from a long distance it is obvious that the mountain towering above the city of Nagy-Eged provides an excellent outing opportunity.

Nature lovers will especially enjoy this pleasant walking tour, passing along side vineyards, taking 20 minutes from the city centre to reach the 901 metre high point. This is Hungary's highest wine-growing area and the view is appropriately breathtaking. Southwards you can see the infinite horizon of the Great Plains. Hungary's largest mountain, the Kékestető peaks to the west, and to the north you can see Bükk Hegy (Beech Mountain), and lying seemingly at your feet, looking like a model of a town, is Eger.

Hiking - Vöröskő - Spring

Vöröskő (Red Stone) is a temporary spring in Bükk National Park, which is typically more active during periods of snowmelt and rainfall.

Hikers are particularly rewarded by the beautiful shapes the water makes as it breaks to the surface, escaping the underground cave systems. The spring is located in a picturesque setting which is great for relaxing. This trip can be done along with a ride on the small railway, a favourite with children too. From Felsőtárkány the forest railway runs to Stimecz House. A nature trail leads from here to the spring.

Biking- in town

Even though it is hilly, Eger is a great town for cycling. In 2015 a bike path network crossing the town was completed. This means cycling is safe and one can travel easily everywhere on the bike paths, including, if you feel inspired, all the way out to Beech Mountain. If you don't have your own bicycle with you, many places will rent you acceptable ones, including those with child seats, for example. The bike path follows a very attractive route from the historical centre of Eger, along the edge of a large pond; a must-see for those with a love of the picturesque.

Szilvásvár – Szalajka valley

About 25 kilometres away from Eger is Szilvásvár. It contains Szalajka Valley which offers many different activities: hop on a small train, or on a bicycle. Adults can test their courage on one of the many exciting courses at the adventure park, or simply stroll along the beautiful veiled waterfall. Do not pass up the opportunity to taste the wonderful local freshly smoked trout.

Felsőtárkány – Deer Rutting

In the autumn, an outing in to the Beech Forest (Bükk) guarantees a memorable experience for nature lovers. Hearing the deer herds mating cries is among the more interesting activities in this forest. The deer rutting period is weather-dependent. It usually lasts from late August to October, when small groups of nature lovers go deep into the forest at night to listen to the phenomenon. It is especially good that the small train runs at the same time, so the less brave can be taken straight to where the deer are.

Hiking - Hór-valley

Hór valley is one of Hungary's longest valleys, and counted as an important route in the middle ages. The valley's most favourite sight is an ancient cave next to Cserepfalu called Suba Hole. You can take a trip of discovery into the forest and find the ancestors' prehistoric dwelling place. Since it is so close by, try to pop into Cserepfalu as well. This village, straight out of the story books, is a great place for an afternoon break.

Hiking Bél-kő (Bel Boulder)

Bélapátfalva is barely a half hour drive (or by train and by bus) from Eger. A small lake and a convent built in 1232 await those who want to take a break from the grey work week. The location's real attraction is the 'Bel Stone' which stretches high above the town. The erosion of the former mining site has been halted. What remains is an almost lunar landscape, guaranteed to make an impression. It is an incomparable sight, with an atmosphere that you may want to experience again and again.

Hiking - Tar-kő (Tar Boulder)

If you feel like a bigger challenge try Tar-Kő, (Tar Stone), at the top of the Bukk Forest. At 949 metres, this is Hungary's 11th highest mountain.

Those overcoming the height difference and making it to the top are rewarded with amazing views, as well as crystal clear air and the scent of flowers all in a truly immaculate environment. Bike lovers can hire bicycles in Eger and make the trip that way. At the height of the scorching Hungarian summer, the cool of the Bukk forest is an inviting 20-25 degrees C.

Biking - Felsőtárkány

If you need a reason to leave the town by bike, head for Felsőtárkány. From Eger this village is only two kilometres by a connecting bike path, but don't be fooled. If you chose to ride from the outskirts of Eger to the lake located on the other side of Felsőtárkány, that's 15 kilometres of peddling in total! So, if you want to make a day of it, you could start out with a little outing and turn it into a 30 kilometre tour.

Biking- Poroszló, Lake Tisza

If you love a challenge and longer bike tours, get on a train to Lake Tisza, Hungary's second largest lake. Take your bikes, or rent some there, but definitely don't go into the area without a bike. A fantastic 60 kilometre long cycle path has been built, which almost has to be tried. Apart from cycling, you can swim in the warm water, go fishing or boating with the family.

Swimming

Enthusiastic swimmers can fully enjoy their hobby in Eger. The Aladar Bitskey swimming pool is a gem, showcasing the organic architectural style of the world-famous Hungarian architect Imre Makovecz. The opportunities for swimming in Eger are worthy of spa town. Also deserving of a visit is the 50m competition pool at the thermal baths. There is also a pool fed by a spring. It is the so-called "gravel" pool, where you can swim in the silky soft water under the shade of a giant sycamore.

Down-hill biking – Eged

On the side of the Nagy Eged Mountain, a downhill bike course can be found, seemingly ideal for extreme sport lovers. The quality of the course is recognised by competition organisers, holding their race events here. The course starts from the top of the mountain. Just look for the cross and you'll find start of the track marked by bushes on either side for the first few metres.

Paragliding

Thanks to the mountainous location, Eger is close to excellent terrain for paragliding. One of the most popular start points in the whole country is the 536 -meter-high NagyEged hilltop, where, with the help of a professional tandem pilot you can experience this very particular type of flying. Good weather conditions give an unparalleled view of the city. Just one flight would guarantee your trip to Eger becomes an unforgettable one. Lake Tisza Eco Centre

The Lake Tisza is not only for bicycling activities.

The Eco Centre at Poroszló is worthy of a visit. The Eco Centre's 2600 m² main building presents previously hidden natural wonders of the Tisza River and Lake Tisza Valley and its wildlife. The 10 hectare park is a beautiful environment to play in: climbing over straw bales, rafting or petting small animals. For bird lovers, for a small fee there is a bird sanctuary tour, where via a small boat you can visit the lagoons, here heron, egrets, ducks and Great Crested Grebes can be seen.

Meteor Watching in August

The Perseid meteor shower passing overhead provides a spectacular event in the first half of August, every year. Eger is a great place to admire this natural phenomenon. Each year there are numerous events for visitors to choose from. A favourite venue is, for example, the Almagyar Érsek Borterasz (Almagyar Bishop Wine Terrace) located on the outskirts of the town. Drinking wine while star gazing? It's only natural for Eger! But we can go even farther from the city, to Bükk (Beech) Plateau which is free of light pollution. The jet-black sky provides an impressive backdrop for the stars!

Almagyar-Érseki Szőlőbirtok / Eger Turizmus

Eger is Hungary's historical wine region. The region's grape and viniculture dates back nearly 1,000 years. However, there are truly ancient artefacts too: discovered on the mountainside of Kis Eged, the 30-million-year-old fossil of vine leaves, "Vitis Hungarica".

The best place to try exceptional wines in Eger is in the Valley of Beautiful Women (Szépasszony völgy). Here you will find more than 200 producers, some of the best wines in Hungary, assembled along one of the country's most famous wine cellar routes. These are typically open year-round and all day long.

Naturally, you can also taste wines at the many wine bars, restaurants, and wineries around Eger. Do take the opportunity to talk to the winemakers on site, while tasting. They are often very friendly and happy to chat about flavours, fragrance and their philosophy of wine making.

Almagyar-Érseki Wine Estate

Almagyar-Érseki Wine Estate lies near the city limits and is a haven for everything refreshing: the air, the view, sunshine, water, grapevines, delicious wines, coffee specialities, home-made syrups and lemonade. To further elevate the experience, you can discover the Eger wine region from horseback, by plane or have fun taking jeeps to go off-road and onto the dirt tracks that lead up into the hills.

Ködmön Tavern and Wine Restaurant

Made from a nearly 250-year-old wine cellar, the Ködmön Tavern and Wine Restaurant offers guests traditional Hungarian food, a high quality wine list, and sophisticated gypsy music. The love that the chefs put into every phase of food preparation, and the warmth and good humour of the waiters all seem to imbue the whole dining experience with a positive energy.

The Juhasz Sibling's Winery – Wine Cellar Nr. 40.

Established in 1996, this winery is one of Eger's most well-known traditional family wine businesses. The cellar is made of volcanic rhyolite which provides an optimal environment to produce the flavour intensive wines, matured in oak vats for many years. One of their top wines is the Egri Cabernet Franc Grand Selection (Challenge du Vin Bordeaux, 2011, silver medal), which is a deep ruby colour, rich, full-bodied red wine. The fragrance of blackberries, tobacco and coffee is particularly special. This is the place to come to taste special and international award winning, unique character wines.

Sike Tamás Wine Cellar Nr. 43

Visitors are welcomed in a 100- metre long, impressively renovated wine cellar area and a terrace that can accommodate 60 people.

Tamas Sike award-winning winemaker from Eger, grows grapes on 27 hectares of land, and principally produces wines, such as: Merlot, Cabernet Franc, Cabernet Sauvignon, Syrah, Alibernet, Pinot Noir, and Italian Riesling. The vineyard is located above the lake which creates a special micro-climate. The environment and other factors have to be just right to create the circumstances which lead the Furmint grapes of particular vintages to develop botrytis, enabling the creation of Aszu wine. If you have a chance while you are in The Valley of Beautiful Women, definitely taste this; it is unique in the Eger Wine Region.

Molnar Wine Cellar Nr. 16.

The 60 -meter-long basement hollowed-out of rhyolite creates a spacious guest area as well as an open terrace to welcome guests. In winter, the fireplace radiates heat, while in the summer it's a cool, cosy environment where wine lovers can drink in the candlelit atmosphere and some excellent wines. After prior consultation, savoury snacks such as scones, ham, cheese, farmer's charcuterie platter, and bread and dripping) can be provided. The specialty wine available at this cellar is the "Éger Édes", a sweet white wine that has a honey aroma.

Ostoros Wine Cellar Nr. 33.

Using the most modern techniques and technology, this winery has been producing wines for fifty years, with great attention to detail and no compromises. They have a multiple domestic and international awards: the winery is particularly successful with its rosé wines, but the 2012 vintage Kékfrankos (also called Blau Frankisch, or Lemberger in the USA) was internationally recognised with a silver medal. At the winery there is a choice of 8 differently themed wine degustation menus. The most exciting is the one which boasts ten different items, presenting a lovely cross section of the varieties available in the whole Eger region.

Tóth Winery

This particular cellar is unique for the area. This is a 1,100m2 wonder in the belly of the mountain. There is no manmade roof support, no plastering, only the hollowed out rhyolite tunnel and the mass of the mountain. The cellar network is made up of 5 branches. A highly professional guide Will present the whole process from grape to bottle. The main focus of the Toth Winery is the preservation of the historical flavour aesthetic of the Eger region, and to this end the use of the most modern technology alongside the traditional, which is clearly demonstrated during the Kistalya cellar tour. A few doors down, at cellar 46, you can try more of their wines.

Tarjányi Winery

From the middle of town, it's a 5-10-minute drive to the intimate hilltop setting. It's worth taking a seat on the "watching the sunset" bench to partake of a delicious glass of wine and appreciate the beautiful surroundings, and the panorama of the vineyards of the Egerszalok hillside. There's a real feeling of being at home here. Sample some of the winery's Bordeaux prize winning wines and definitely order some accompaniments: snacks and pates. For families with little ones there's a small play area and tasty homemade jams. If you book in advance, a gourmet dinner, to complement the wines, especially like one of their chimney roasts. Everything here is authentic and delicious.
