consecrated in 1685 as a provisional solution that was to be replaced by a larger stone church. The old man "Gubben Rosenbom", the parish poor-box, has now stood on the church steps for at least 200 years. The money placed in his head goes to charitable causes still today.

Karlskrona archipelago - 1,650 islands & islets

Karlskrona archipelago is liberating and probably one of the most beautiful places there is! The archipelago of Karlskrona, is the southernmost of Sweden's archipelagos. The whole city is built upon 33 islands. Without the protective ring of large and small islands surrounding the city, King Karl XI, would probably not have chosen Trossö for his new naval base. There are islands, that have from one to 1,500 inhabitants, islands with and without connection to the mainland. Look for your very own favorite spot - and enjoy - because there are plenty of them!

Far out in eastern archipelago, there are plenty of exciting islands such as, Inlängan, Utlängan, Stenshamn, Ungskär and Hästholmen, which offer a charming setting. Far out to the southeast, lies the island Utklippan. Enjoy the unique environment and look for the seal colony, the seals really enjoy their life here.

WORLD HERITAGE CITY

Visit Karlskrona

Karlskrona's well preserved town plan, wide baroque streets and parade buildings resulted in UNESCO in 1998 designating it a World Heritage site. Some parts of the town's naval installations are still in use today, 300 years after the town was established. Its many citadels, fortresses and powder magazines are popular excursion destinations, with or without a guide.

Karlskrona is built on several islands, the centre being situated on the island of Trossö - 6 km out in the archipelago! In total the town stands on more than 30 islands several of which can be reached by car. In the summer months the archipelago boats ply the waters between several of the most popular excursion destinations. Take advantage of the free car ferry to Aspö and why not hire a cycle and discover the island.

The Naval Museum is very popular with all age groups. Other places to visit in Karlskrona are the Art Gallery, Blekinge museum, Karlskrona Porcelain and car museum.

Stortorget - the grand square

The town centre is located on Trossö island. Many visitors are fascinated by the main square, where the Tourist Office can also be found.

The statue of Karl XI gazes out over the grand paved square. The impressive churches are immediately eye-catching: Fredrikskyrkan (The Frederick church) and Trefaldighetskyrkan (The Holy Trinity Church), also known as the German Church. Many restaurants and cafés are clustered around Stortorget and on the pedestrian streets nearby.

Grevagården and Blekinge Museum

Blekinge Museum provides a vivid account of local history from 10,000 years ago up to the present day. At Count Wachtmeister's palace, Grevagården, you can get a glimpse into life in the 1700s. And why not enjoy some refreshments in the beautiful gardens while the children play in the museum's playground, Grevagrundet?

The Fredrik's church

The building of The Fredrik's church started in 1720 after drawings from the most famous architect at that point in Sweden, Nicodemus Tessin the younger. In the spring of 2018, the church was reinvented after extensive renovation. The church is now one of the most modern in Sweden.

Admiral af Chapman's estate at Skärva - a part of the World Heritage

Admiral af Chapman's estate at Skärva is one of the most singular architectural creations produced in Sweden during the eighteenth century. Built by the Admiral Superintendent and naval architect Fredric Henric af Chapman as his summer residence, the main building presents a remarkable marriage of Swedish neo-classical elements and traditional architecture.

(Skärva Herrgård), once Admiral Chapman's summer residence belonging to the World Heritage Site, is located 7 km outside of Karlskrona. Wander through the wide English Park, go for a hike in the marvellous nature reserve, a bike tour on our mountain-bikes or discover the archipelago by water by kajak.

You can book a stay at this 200 year old mansion right next to the Baltic Sea, which today is a Seminar, Event- and Guesthouse and is surrounded by a beautiful nature reserve.

You can go by archipelagoboat during summer or by car all year round. During summerseason there are guided tours of the estate and a café.

Stumholmen with The Naval Museum

The pulse of history is heard clearly over the island, which once was a warehouse for the sailing fleet's food supply. After 300 years as a closed military area, the island Stumholmen was transformed in 1993 into a civilian section of the city. Among waterside houses and work places and at the lovely swimming beach, history lives on. This is where you will find the Naval Museum, Karlskrona's foremost visitor attraction. The museum is an architectural masterpiece, with its 140-metreplus structure extending right out over the water! The museum also incorporates the interesting Sloop and Longboat Shed with boat displays. The old hangars from the pioneering days of aviation and Kungshall storehouse are other interesting attractions. The unique submarine hall with HMS Neptun is the museums latest attraction, opened in June 2014.

Kungsbron & Bastion Aurora

In the old days, the residents of Karlskrona gathered at Kungsbron to welcome kings and prominent guests, as this is the true gateway to the town. The pink and white building is the residence of the county governor, and the view from here over the archipelago is enchanting. The Aurora Bastion is a part of the original wall that divided the city into a civilian and a military part. Today the Aurora Bastion is a popular concert venue.

Björkholmen

A stroll around Björkholmen still gives you an insight into how it was in the 18th century. The Björkholmen part of the town can be seen as the other side of the tracks in relation to the parade buildings of Trossö. This is where the first shipyard workers and tradesmen lived in small, low cottages, that sometimes rested directly on the flat rock. The streets on Björkholmen are named from different types of ships and admirals. Enjoy the view over Saltsösund and passing boats!

Fisktorget - a great meetingpoint by the sea

Several of the archipelago tours depart from the jetty at Fisktorget. During the summer season, there are music and food available at Fisktorget (the old fishmarket place).

The "Fiskargumman" (Fisherman's wife) statue by Erik Höglund is a reminder of the time when the women would row in from the islands and sell their fish to the town residents. Next to the Fisktorget square and the hotel, you find a small island called "Stakholmen". One tip is to take a walk over the little footbridge to the island, a perfect spot for a picnic, with fantastic views over Borgmästarefjärden, which is extra special at sunset.

sea. Take a swim from the rocks or from the lovely beach. On the island Dragsö, which is the neighboring island, there is a very popular family campground. Drottningkärs kastell (citadel) was largely built during the last decade of the 17th century and is considered one of Sweden's foremost defence constructions, a complete and well preserved fortress from Sweden's period as a great power. The citadel has a large castle keep in granite with gun deck, powder magazine and quarters. It has four bastions named after the queens Maria, Christina, Hedvig and Ulrica. Since 1895 Drottningsskär has not played an active part in the Swedish defence system. You can get to Drottningsskär citadel all year round via the car ferry to Aspö. The archipelago boats stop here during the summer. Interested in a guided tour during off-season? Contact the Tourist office.

THE ARCHIPELAGO

Andreas Blomlöf / Visit Karlskrona

Karlskrona archipelago is liberating and probably one of the most beautiful places there is! The archipelago of Karlskrona, is the southernmost of Sweden's archipelagos. The whole city is built upon 33 islands. Without the protective ring of large and small islands surrounding the city, King Karl XI, would probably not have chosen Trossö for his new naval base. There are islands, that have from one to 1,500 inhabitants, islands with and without connection to the mainland. Look for your very own favorite spot - and enjoy - because there are plenty of them!

Far out in eastern archipelago, there are plenty of exciting islands like, Inlängan, Utlängan, Stenshamn, Ungskär and Hästholmen, which offer a charming setting. The character of the islands here, differs a lot from the green inner archipelago. Far out to the southeast, lies the island Utklippan. Enjoy the unique environment and look for the seal colony, the seals really enjoy their life here.

How to get around in the Karlskrona archipelago - several entrepreneurs, offer traffic in the archipelago of Karlskrona all year round.

The islands - Stenshamn & Utlängan

These two islands lie far out in Karlskrona's eastern archipelago and are connected by a low bridge/road. Two genuine islands that are just large enough for a day excursion or a few days in the guest harbour. You will find an abundance of bird life, possibilities for bathing and outdoor life. A walking trail that you can read about in the harbour lead you on a great tour around the islands. During summer, there are exhibitions, about the history of the islands during the 20th century, in the old boathouse. There is also special music evenings during the summer. At "Pelles Sjöbod" you can buy ice cream, coffee and cakes in summer, situated in the guest harbour of Stenshamn. You reach Stenshamn with the archipelago boats Wittus and Ungskär or with kayak or your own boat.

Enjoy the view from the cannon apertures - can you spot any enemy vessels approaching? The Museum for Mobile Coast Artillery is another interesting attraction. Aspö Lotstorn (the old harbour pilot tower) offers a great and unusual accommodation option. The archipelago boats call at Drottningeskär during the summer. The yellow ferry from Handelshamnen provides a free opportunity to come to the island all year round. The guest harbor is situated at Lökanabben, on the eastern side of the island, next to the citadel. You can rent a bike on the island at Aspö Mad.
